

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

JIMMY RAYMOND BLOW,
Petitioner,

v.

BUREAU OF PRISONS,
Respondent.

No. C 07-01357 CW (HC)

ORDER TRANSFERRING
PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

Petitioner Jimmy Raymond Blow, a federal prisoner, filed this petition under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 claiming his due process rights were violated because there was insufficient evidence for the Discipline Hearing Officer to find him guilty of engaging in or encouraging a group demonstration. The incident in question took place at the United States Penitentiary in Beaumont, Texas, where Petitioner was incarcerated from October 31, 2000 through July 11, 2006. Petitioner filed this petition on September 17, 2007, when he was incarcerated at the United States Penitentiary in Atwater, California. On September 3, 2008, Petitioner was transferred to the United States Penitentiary Lee in Jonesville, Virginia. See Docket # 16.

The writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 can issue only from a court with jurisdiction over the prisoner or his custodian. United States v. Koller, 956 F.2d 1408, 1417 (9th Cir. 1992) (citations omitted). 28 U.S.C. 2241(a). The statute allows "the Supreme Court, any justice thereof, the district courts and

1 any circuit judge" to grant writs of habeas corpus "within their
2 respective jurisdictions." 28 U.S.C. 2241(a). Because the writ of 3 habeas corpus is directed at the person who allegedly has detained
4 the prisoner unlawfully, section 2241(a) requires "nothing more
5 than that the court issuing the writ have jurisdiction over the 6 custodian." Braden v. 30th Judicial Circuit Court, 410 U.S. 484,
7 495 (1973).

8 Where a federal district court determines that the appropriate
9 custodian resides within the State in which it sits, the district
10 court has personal jurisdiction over the petition because its 11 jurisdiction extends to the territorial limits of the State in 12 which the court sits. United States ex rel. Ruffin v. Mancusi, 300
13 F. Supp. 686, 687 (E.D.N.Y. 1969). As long as the custodian of a
14 petitioner resides within California, this Court has personal
15 jurisdiction over the custodian and is accordingly empowered to 16 hear the petition.

17 Because Petitioner is presently incarcerated in a federal
18 penitentiary in Virginia, this Court lacks jurisdiction over him
19 and his petition. In the interests of justice and judicial 20 efficiency, this Court transfers the petition to the Western 21 District of Virginia which now has jurisdiction over Petitioner.

22 CONCLUSION

23 For the foregoing reasons, Petitioner's petition for a writ of 24 habeas corpus is transferred to the Western District of Virginia.

25 IT IS SO ORDERED.
